

VICTOR A revolution in private jet charter

Three years after its initial uprising, Victor is hailed as one of the world's most trusted destination for private jet charters and empty legs bookings. It has won an industry-reforming battle against the lack of transparency in charter fees, by offering free membership, simply charging 5% on any online bookings, and serviced by an experienced flight management and customer services team. 110 operators have already signed up; giving Victor's 4800 members a choice of 700 aircraft and 20,000 airports. Members can get at least three personalized, easy-to-compare quotes within one hour, and could be airborne within two. Uniquely, its quotes include operator details, tail number and images of the aircraft, cabin dimensions, insurance information, cancellation policy and an all-inclusive price, apart from possible de-icing and special food requirements. For financial security, Victor operates a secure client deposit account with HSBC. This is in contrast to some recent copycat start-ups, whose limited disclosure and lack of financial safeguards potentially put customers at risk. Victor is also helping owners, operators and charterers from all over the world to get the most value, by sharing flights, as well as offering empty legs of their aircraft on the site for onwards sale. Following a recent oversubscribed Series A fundraise, Victor has over £5 million to invest in new territories, with Europe, Russia, CIS and the US in its sights. It is crossing new frontiers technologically too, with its ground-breaking innovations in consumer and business apps set to take the revolution to stratospheric levels. It seems Victor will be on the warpath for some time to come.
